Session 2: Developing Wholelife Disciples

DISCIPLESHIP

Now mature, in my book does not mean the "churchly," those who have mastered the vocabulary and the litany of church life, who come alive only when the church doors open. Rather, I have in mind those who walk through all the corridors of the larger life—the market-place, the home and community, the playing fields—and do it in such a way that, sooner or later, it is concluded that Jesus' fingerprints are all over them.

The marks of maturity?
Self-sustaining in spiritual devotions. Wise in human relationships. Humble and serving. Comfortable and functional in the everyday world where people of faith can be in short supply. Substantial in conversation; prudent in acquisition; respectful in conflict; faithful in commitments.

EA

Discipleship emerges out of prayer, study, dialogue and worship by a community learning to ask questions of obedience, as they are engaged directly in mission.

Alan Roxburgh

For years pastors have implied, ‘Come to church; come to small groups; you’ll be a disciple’. It hasn’t worked. That system’s broken. We all know that. Discipleship is more than urging conversions, signing people up for Bible study and recruiting workers for church programmes. The greatest tool for making disciples is getting people to engage the world. Bob Roberts

If we took the 10-110 seriously....

- What would we pray for when we were together?
- What would the focus of our preaching be?
- What issues would take most time in leadership meetings?
- What songs would worship leaders choose?
- What would we talk about in small groups?
